DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim must be in one sentence form only and is not a complete sentence. In addition, the relative terms in the claim which are used to relate the current invention to that of other ATV racks is inappropriate language for the claim. Also, the "lowest center of gravity" is unclear since there is nothing to which this term relates which is lower.

3. Claim 1 is rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3612

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1, as best understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hildebrandt.

Hildebrandt (6,371,719) discloses an all-terrain vehicle rack for transporting two all-terrain vehicles on a short bed pickup truck 12. The center of gravity of the rack is somewhat low and the rack is capable of limiting the lateral movement of the wheels via a side safety barrier 90. The rack also comprises an end barrier 104. The barrier 90 can reduce the lateral movement of the wheels of an ATV in transit. Furthermore, the rack comprises a plurality of parts 40, 90, 104 that can be assembled and disassembled. When disassembled the parts can apparently be stored.

6. Claim 1, as best understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schrunk.

Schrunk (5,494,393) discloses an all-terrain vehicle rack 10 for transporting two all-terrain vehicles on a short bed pickup truck 14. The center of gravity of the rack is somewhat low and the rack is capable of limiting the lateral movement of the wheels 45 of the ATV by cross-members 40. The cross-members can reduce the lateral movement of the wheels of an ATV in transit. Furthermore, the rack comprises a plurality of parts that can be assembled and disassembled for storage.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
